Romans

Who, When, Where

Written by Paulus (Paul). Paulus was originally a learned Pharisee, persecuting, imprisoning and murdering Christians. He was converted by a direct revelation from God, when he (Saoulos) (Saul) was journeying to Damascus. Paulus, who was known as a rabbi even in the world of Hellenistic Paulus became one just a Christian but one of Christianity's most outspoken and powerful apostles. Paulus was also known as a tent maker, and he was a Roman citizen. Paulus was a Jew of the Jews, and he was a Pharisee of the Pharisees. Paulus was a Hebrew of the Hebrews, and he was a Roman of the Romans. Paulus was a man born of Jewish ethnic ancestry, and he was a man born of Roman ethnic ancestry. Paulus was a man who was born with Roman citizenship. Paulus was a man who was born with Roman citizenship. Paulus was a man who was born with Roman citizenship